Global Youth Tobacco Survey

The Global Youth Tobacco Survey (GYTS) is a global standard to systematically monitor youth tobacco use and track key tobacco control indicators.

GYTS is a nationally representative school-based survey of students 13-15 years of age, using a consistent and standard protocol across countries. It is intended to generate comparable data within and across counties.

GYTS enhances countries' capacity to design, implement, and evaluate tobacco control interventions, and is also an important tool to assist countries in supporting the WHO MPOWER, a package of six evidence-based demand reduction measures contained in the Framework Convention on Tobacco Control (FCTC):
